Coolidge Victory is Record Vote PARAGRAPHS CON-

BIG VOTE TO GROESBECK SALES, BOBENMOYER & CHALKER VICTORS

The national and state Republican candidates were swept into office Tuesday with a record vote. Coolidge and Dawes received the largest vote on record. Davis and Bryan carried the usual solid south democratic states, while LaFollette and Wheeler managed to capture the former's home state of Wisconsin by a narrow margin.

In the state Groesbeck for governor completely snowed under his democratic opponent Edward Frensdorf. The other Republican state candidates also received handsome majorities. Senator Couzens, Republacan was reelected over Mortimer E. Cooley, Democrat, by about Congressman Woodruff, Senator Karcher and Representative Farrier were easily re-elected.

There were only three contests on the county ticket for sheriff, clerk and treasurer. Sheriff Jorgenson, Dem= ocrat, was decisively defeated by Jess E. Bobenmoyer; Republican. Frank Sales, Democrat, was re-elected county clerk over Clarence Johnson, Republican, by a large

The race for county treasurer was the most spirited of any in the county. Treasurer Edwin S. Chalker, was re-elected by a good safe plurality. He was opposed on the Democratic ticket by Walmer Jorgenson, what made it a little different from the other campaigns was the entrance on Monday of Edward S. Houghton, running on slips, who, it was reported, was the Klan candidate.

An accurate tabulated report of just how the voters of Crawford county voted appears herewith.

Armistice Day Nov. 11

HALF HOLIDAY DECLARED BY VILLAGE PRESIDENT.

Six years ago next Tuesday, November 11th, hostilities between the warring nations of the World war ceased. For more than four years there had been great destruction of life and property in Europe and peace was most welcome to all. Artillery no longer poured forth its destruction over the lands and the smell of poisonous gasses no longer needed to be feared and everywhere there was great rejoicing.

In honor of this day let us all give thanks, and further let us spend the day in joyful memory of its significance.

THEREFORE: In accordance with the authority vested in me by the laws of the Village of Grayling, I hereby declare the afternoon of Armistice Day, Tuesday, November 11th, a half holiday. Let our people enter into the festivities and unite in the patriotic program of the day.

Dated this 4th day of November, A. D. 1924. RICHARD D. CONNINE, President of the Village of Grayling,

British Conservatives Win Big Victory—Laborites and Liberals Beaten.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD RAMSAY MACDONALD and his Labor government went down to defeat in the British parliamentary elections, and the Conservatives won a great victory. They have a decisive majority in the house of commons. and at this writing it is presumed that Stanley Baldwin, leader of the party, will return to the office of prime minister. Mr. MacDonald was re-elected, however, and it is said he and his cabinet may carry on until the Conservatives defeat them in the house,

The Liberals were badly beaten, los-ing a lot of seats, and it is believed will go out of existence as a over his Labor opponent, but Mrs. As quith, leader of the other wing of the Liberals, was beaten by Mitchell, Laborite, in Paisley, which constituency broke its Liberal record of 92 years. This was a severe blow to the party and likely will result in driving its left wing into the ranks of Laborites. Other prominent men who won seats were Winston Churchill, Austen Chamberlain, C. P. Trevalyan, Attorney General Hastings, Philip Snowden, Sir J. A. R. Marriott and Sir Hamar Greenwood. Of the fourteen woman candidates only four were elected—Lady Astor, Conservative; Miss Wilkinson, Labor, Mrs. Philipson and the duchess of Athol. The gains by the Conservatives were general throughout, the country and even where they failed to elect their candidates they largely increased their vote.

On this side of the Atlantic, the Canadians were especially interested in the result of the British elections, and the victory of the Conservatives caused them to rejoice. This is be-Kenna duties by which Canada benefited greatly, and also because they think a policy of imperial preferences will be adopted, which will help the Dominion

If the Laborites' defeat can be laid to any one thing, it is the fact that they had been showing too much favor to Soviet Russia.

SENATOR BORAH and his committee went right along probing into campaign contributions and expenditures, despite the fact that the cam-paign was closing. It is difficult to write about that investigation without voicing disgust at the trivialities on which time is wasted and at the petifogging tactics of many of those taking part in the "exposures," Part of the committee returned to Chicago and there heard, among thers, W. V. Hodges of Denver, treasurer of the Republican national committee. Being questioned about his connection with a sugar company and his advocacy of the present sugar tariff, he reiterated his belief that the tariff is all right, and produced letters to prove that this view was shared by Senators Ladd and Frazier of North Dakota and Senator Wheeler of Montana, third party men. Mr. Hodges said that to date the national committee had received $2,750,000 and had collected $750,000 additional which had been returned to

To be efficient in the work of the To be emcient in the work of the chiropractor such a detector must be dependable and quick acting. It must quickly pick up the heat and as quickly dissipate the residual heat. As perfected the Spino-Thermograph will register a difference in temperature of a very small part of a degree. In comparative tests a few days ago with an instrument costing $2,200 the Spino-Thermograph proved to be three times as sensitive, detecting differences in the sensitive of the differences in temperature where the other failed to register.

The purpose of the instrument is to aid the chiropractor in more accurately locating all points of nerve pressure along the spine. It has been found that where there is an inter-ference with the transmission of nerve force over the nerve trunks as they leave the spine a slight amount of abnormal heat is developed. By the use of the Spino-Thermograph these points of pressure can readily be located following the adjustment located following the adjustment to relieve the pressure the instrument can again be used to check the chiropractors adjusting. If the adjustment has been effective the Spino-Thermograph will show a return to a normal temperature at those points which previously showed abnormal. If perchance the adjustment has been increased rather than decreased the amount of pressure present thus likewise will be shown by a higher registration than the previous one.

Spino-Thermograph in itself has no theraputic value, only being an accurate means by which the chiro-practor can check his work.

In all of these disasters immediately relief activity was applied by the Red Cross, which expended $737,603.37 through the na-tional organization and the local Chapters in assisting stricken com-

As the nation's chief relief agency whose service covers over 43 years, the Red Cross is expected to be on duty almost as soon as disaster strikes any locality. This trust and confidence is amply justified by the increasing equipment of the Red Cross, which recently organized a mobile disaster unit of experienced workers ready in all parts of the country to respond on the instant to a call for active duty. This unit is capable of operating in several disaster areas under one general direction, and recently was at work in seven communities in five states at the same time.

Ability, alertness and increasing skill of volunteer workers in more than 3.500 Chapters are reasons for the preparedness of Red Cross for disaster operations, be the call for a disturbance in a restricted local area or for millions in relief funds for a staggering catastrophe such as the earthquake in Japan. The Red Cross, however, is far from being self-satisfied, for the or-ganization is giving the most serious consideration to measures for preventing disasters. Its relief administration and rehabilitation policies have won for it nation-wide regard. That this important work can always measure up to every demand needs the continued support of the Amer-ican people through Red Cross membership. ULIUS NELSON LOSES HERD OF FINE PUREBREDS.

Any lover of fine dairy cattle would ind it easy to shed tears if he could nly see the grand herd of cattle that clong to Julius Nelson and are being hipt to Detroit to be slaughtered beause they have been found to be tu ercular.

They are about the nicest looking They are about the nicest looking of dairy cows we have ever seen congregated—all Holsteins and most of them purebred and registered. It s, a sad sight to see these beautiful, lick looking animals and to realize that in a few days they must be cilled. A few other heifers have been added to the herd, two of which are from the Tony Nelson herd, which also are of the same high standard of grade. These cattle range in age from two to seven years. Among from two to seven vears.

of milk production and are valuable, one costing its owner $275.00.

Naturally Mr. Nelson is feeling pretty badly over the loss of his cattle as well as over the financial loss he will have to sustain, however he is game and isn't doing any kicking. He says, however, that he cannot understand how it is that so many of his artill ways of the says. derstand how it is that so many of his cattle were effected since it is only a short time that he purchased them, previous to which time they and the parents of the cattle had been tested annually for the past eight years. He says that he and his son had taken a great deal of delight and made a big effort to build up a dairy of purebreds of the highest standard.

I recommend the Vegetable Compound highly and will sing its praises in the future."—Mrs. DA GERBITZ, Wyocena, Wis. It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition afterchild-birth, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer.

Lydia E, Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother both before and afterchild-birth. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs. It can be taken in safety by nursing mothers.

MAKING GOOD IN SMALL TOWN

Real Stories About Real Girls

By MRS. HARLAND H. ALLEN *********

(C; 1924, Western Newspaper Union.) THE HURRY-CALL HOUSE-KEEPER

THE home-maker-by-the-day has a opportunity in a small town. There, the average woman cannot afford- to keep a housekeeper habitu ally, but emergencies do arise in which a housekeeper who may be hastily summoned is extremely handy, Se says one woman, a widow, who is by no means young and who doesn't care about a permanent position; she has hit on the "emergency liousekeeper" ldea and is muking a great success

"I'm not a fancy cook, and I don't pretend to be," she explained, "but I do say for myself that I can manage a house harmoniously and I can cook plain foods well. The night thing the ousekeeper-by-the-day should remem ber is that, inasmuch as she is usually summoned in case of sickness accident or some other emergency, the quality that will most endear her to the household is an ability to keep things running smoothly. It is not necessary for her to do fancy sewing or cooking; rather, she should be practical, and should be able to turn her hand to whatever there is to be

For the woman whose special forte is managing a house, but who does not care to have all of her time engaged, this woman's experience is a suggestion. It means well-paying, congenial work, for which she will need capital, no office, no equipment. She might make a special point of applying to worken who run boarding houses, for the work of substituting for them while they take summer va-cations. Women who cater to "mealers" do often become tired out and need a rest, and they would welcome the opportunity of shifting the responsibility to some capable person for a few weeks every year. Of course, the successful substitute would keep down grocery bills, and keep up the boarders' enthusiasm for the place. Another possibility for the

with the same natural qualifications would be the work of "keeping up" the apartments or houses of women in business. Such women would pay well for an hour or two of maid service. If the size and character of the town warrants it, she might even rent an office after her business got a little start, and hire other women to fill some of her appointments to "clean up" for business women, In general, the woman who decides to go into this field will probably have as her duties some washing, some ironing, some plain mending, some Cleaning, in addition to the job of making things as a whole run smoothand adaptability will be her stock-in-

BASKET BOARDERS

"B ASKET boarders" are the most satisfactory kind anyone can 'take in."

They are not exacting; they don't tire of the boarder-lady's cooking, and they don't even require a dining-hall. Travelers who go through on the train are the principal "basket-boarders" of the woman who told me all this. She lives in a little railroad center.

"Most of the trains only stop here a couple of minutes, and the folks who are going through don't have time to run across the street to the restaurant," she explained. "So I put up my basket lunches and hire a little boy to take them over and sell them. I sell several baskets of lunch that way every day."

Say, for instance, that it is a college town. The boarder-lady can easily make a profitable venture of selling her baskets of food, suitable for spreads and between-meal snacks, to the college girls, who are notoriously always hungry. Then, the girl who lives in a town where there are numerous offices should center her attention on the collar" trade the husiness men who won't carry lunches from home, but who hate to take time to go to a restaurant.

She should, of course, vary her lunches with the seasons. She should try to include some food that is pipng hot, especially in the winter time Twenty-five cent lunches might contain one sandwich, wrapped in waxed paper, one piece of fried chicken, also wrapped, and a piece of fresh fruit. Fifteen cent lunches might include sandwiches, home-made cake and fruit. Specialties for the picnic lunches should be sandwiches, salads and baked beans. The sandwiches may be made of left-overs. All the lunches should be either boxed or wrapped in paraffin paper; and the scrupulous woman will always enclose paper napkins. She may serve hot drinks, even to the railroad passengers, if she has the co-operation of the newsboy on the train. Through him, the travelers may order their drinks, as well as the food that is to go in their baskets. The newsboy may telegraph the orders from the next station and assume the responsibility for the cups, delivering them back to the cook.

The boarder-lady's market is everywhere, for folks must eat. Almost everybody is a prospective "basket

GIVES FIVE YEARS TO LEGION CAUSE

National Adjutant Russell G. Crevison is rounding out the fifth year of his service with the national headquarters of the American Legion, Creviston, who was responsted adjutant by Commander James A. Drain, following the St. Paul convention of the Legion, began his service with the national headquarters as head of the organization division,

Mr. Creviston was born near Marton Ind.; prior to his coming to the Legion he was with the field section of community service. He was stationed at Minneapolis and took a leading part in organizing the Minnesota depart ment of the Legion, becoming a char-ter member of the first post in the state. He was very active in arranging for the first convention of the veterans, which was held in Minneapolis in November, 1919.

Franklin D'Olier, who was elected national commander, requested community service to lend Creviston to the Legion. Crevision headed the or-ganization division until September, 1920, when he became assistant na-tional adjutant. When the first national adjutant, Lemuel Bolles, resigned in January, 1924, Mr. Creviston was immediately appointed adjutant by John R. Quinn.

One of the pet projects of the na-tional adjutant is the development of the Legion in foreign lands. He has seen the inestimable value to the organization itself and to the nation as a whole of the existence of strong units of this great society of veterans abroad.

Entering the military service on June 6, 1917, as a private in the Fourth Indiana infantry, Mr. Creviston attended the Second Officers' Training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison and was commissioned first lieutenant. Originally attached to the Three Hundred Twenty-seventh Machine battalion, he was transferred to the headquarters stuff of the Eighty-fourth division and put in charge of the administration co-ordination tion. He later served as an inspector on the general staff and was commissioned captain. He was discharged June 7, 1919.

To Have Post Honoring Two New Jersey Youths

Maple Shade, N. J., will soon have an American Legion post, the Antrim-Mentz post, in honor of two Maple Shade youths and heroes of the World war. Harry Antrim enlisted in the United States navy at the beginning of the war, and was assigned to the U. S. S. Buena Ventura, a supply boat which was torpedoed on September 16. 1918. Antrim was rescued in a lifeboat, but herolcally went back to his ship, which was sinking, and at tempted to save some of his comrades Antrim went down with the ship. Nor ris M. Metz was a private in head quarters company, Three Hundred and Fifteenth infantry, and was wounder in action in France and later returned to the ranks in October, 1918, was again wounded in action November 5, and died shortly after from his wounds. Showing Patriotism The peculiar method taken by some Americans to express their patriotism was censured by West Hoboken (N. J.) unit of the American Legion Auxiliary when a resolution was introduced denouncing the use of models of Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt in making novelty cakes of soap which are eing sold in New York department stores. A member of the unit declared she found miniature busts of Presidents on sale at the tollet counter of a New York store. Upon examina-tion of the busts she found them to be soap replicas of our national he roes and made in Germany.

Why America Must Have More Paved Highways

Almost every section of the United States is confronted by a traffic problem.

Month by month this problem is becoming more and more serious.

Hundreds of cars pass a given point every hour on many of our state and county roads. Downtown city streets are jammed with traffic.

Think, too, how narrow many of our roads are, and how com-paratively few paved highways there are in proportion to the steadily increasing number

If the motor vehicle is to conof which it is capable, we must have more Concrete highways and widen those near large cen-ters of population.

Every citizen should discuss highway needs of his community with his local authorities.

Your highway officials will do their part if given your support.

Why postpone meeting this pressing need? An early start means early relief.

LILLIAN .

BYNOPSIS.—Ellen and Joe Latimer, orphans, without means, make their home with their Aunt Elsie, at Port Washington, small New York town. Ellen is studying art, her expenses being pale by Mrs. Sewall Rose, girlhood friend of her mpther. Mrs. Rose invites Ellen to a Thanksgiving house party and the girl is delighted. On the way from the station to Mrs. Rose's Ellen rides with a remarkably attractive young woman and a much older man. She takes them, for father and daughter, but they are introduced as Mr. and Mrs. Josselyn. Ellen does not fit in with the younger members of the party, and is miserable. Leaving for her home next morning. Ellen meets Gibbs Josselyn, son of her fellow guest. He has disapproved of his fathers wedding and is not on speaking terms with the couple. Declining to stay at Mrs. Rose's, Gibbs drives. Ellen'to the station They milss the train and Gibbs undertakes to drive the girl to Port Washington. Their anto is wrecked. Ellen is hurt, but it is not thought to be serious, and she and Gibbs part. He has been attracted by the girl, and she by him. Ellen's injury proves to be severe, and for months she is an invalld. Recovered. she is taking part in the town's Memorial aday festivities when Gibbs Josselyn, on a yachting trip with a friend. George Lathroo, meets her again. The feeling of mutual attraction has strengthened since they parted. They leave Port Washington man and yite. Nearly seven years later Gibbs and Ellen Josselyn, Senior, and his beautiful wife, Lillian, the old ill-feeling forgotten.

"Joe? Joe's a great fellow," he said We're very fond of Joe at my house In some ways he's the most remarkable boy I ever knew! He's absolutely and utterly honest. Things don't deceive Joe. I like to introduce him to people—if they've got anything that interests Joe, he gets it out. If they haven't it doesn't matter how much to the "Villing dell' Orto." It was a hampagne they onen, or whether they have a season opera box or a villa in Italy, they simply don't register with Joe. I think that fellow will go a long way! He's taught my boy more now than I could ever teach him. more than he'll get out of college." Ellen went back to Gibbs with her eyes shining,

"Mr. Lathrop was talking so nicely about Jee. Gibbs !" "Oh, that's a love affair all 'round! Lillian said lazily. "Of course Har-riet's feelings are no secret. She's plain, and she's not likely to meet any one else on the same infimate terms that she's known Joe. George is will ing, Joe is willing-I suppose-and Harriet is more than willing."

"Joe!" Ellen could only echo, in amuzement.

"Joe is clever; and stendy, and sensible," Millian said, "and, George doesn't care about anything else. His one terror is that his precious child will be snapped up for her money Joe's position doesn't make the slight est difference to George!"

It was said so pleasantly, in her good-natured, indifferent manner, that the oddity of this sentiment, coming from Lillian, did not occur to Ellen nor the propriety of her saying it to Ellen at all. The two women, niterly different in type, were inclined to like ench other, perhaps for the reason that they lived in allen worlds, and spoke alien tongues. Ellen, clear of vision for all her simplicity and inexperience, knew that Lillian regarded her with a sort of indulgent contempt, A woman who was cheerfully unfashionable to the point of dowdiness, who was domestic and unselfish and contented, had no common ground upon which to meet Lillian Josselyn.

She had friendships, of a sort with women, sometimes she tried t. make Ellen express herself about them. And she had friendships with men, but of these she never spoke at all. She was the type of heautiful woman who can remain silent with perfect self-nossession, and when she did speak it was to amuse her old husband, or to encourage Ellen and Glbbs to talk.

In the evening occasionally all four went to the theater. But Lillian liked better to dine at leisure somewhere, and to meet friends, as they always did, and to dance. Glbbs danced a little, Ellen less. They sat and charted with Josselyn. Senior, quite happily, enjoying the music and the generul galety of the scene. Some times they went to the ten dances that were the latest attraction at the big hotels; Ellen would feel a little sorry for her father-in-law. He was always well-groomed, interested, alert. She found a little pathos in his eagerness to join them in all their amusements.

plans, He treated his wife with unvarying courtesy, but he grew deeply fond of Ellen, and little Tom became the joy of his life. There were days when the three went together to the park or the zoo and chattered all day as if they had been of one age. And Ellen felt no pity for the sliver head when she saw it bent against Tommy's black locks; somehow there was a dignity and a fittingness here that was lacking at the dances and the teas.

day, had found a pleasant little country nurse for Tommy, the same maid that she had had during her illness, and Ellen consequently had nothing to do but amuse herself. The big car was at the ladies' disposal, Gibbs ofter went with them, his father less fre in the evenings, and George Lathrop duly gave them a dinner party, To this party Harriet came, a thin, nervous, sweet girl, plain of face, but with a pretty manner, and most at ease with Joe. She accepted Ellen's overtures of friendship eagerly, sent her flowers, and showed in more than one way her pleasure in the companlonship of Joe's sister.

So ten days went by, and long be fore they were over Ellen began to long for a simpler life, where Gibbs would seem her own again, and where Tommy might always he free, in the happy old way, to be in his mother's company. They would visit the Long Island busse, that would be a simpler life, at least, and then they would find a studio and apartment of their own, keep the little Port Washington and go back to their own way of liv

Lillian had told them something of the home at Whentley Hills, "Tom had great fun designing it." "You designed it!" the old man said

Two days later they drove straight from the hotel to Wheatley Hills, and

GNES HAVENS TELLS OF AUTO TRIP TO SEATTLE.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 30, 24
Mr. and Mrs. William Havens and daughter Miss Agnes left Grayling last August for the west where they intended to make their future residence. A splendid account of their journey has been written for the Avalanche by Miss Havens, and veare sure our readers will enjoy reading it. It says as follows:

We crossed 4 mountain ranges—Rockies, Bitter Roct, Coeur d'Alene duviding line betwen Montana and Idaho. As soon as we started to descend we were in Idaho. The drive through Idaho was a very scenic trip, thru timbered mountain region and in a dust trap.

We all are sorry to see a family lose a nice looking cow through the test for tuberculosis; but is if not far better to have her found out, than to let her go on feeding the germs of tubtrculosis to people, particularly ping cattle into the county, excepting under conditions. think Aberdeen, was the prettiest we went through. Here they had a ice auto tourist camp located in beautiful park, with many beautiful flower beds, and fountain swimming pool, playground for the children, every convenience, hot and cold water showers, laundry, electric lights, stores and community house. Everyhing a tourist could wish for. But well equipped camps such as this are quite common in the west. The major-ity of them have kitchens and gas plates.

At Mobridge, S. D. we crossed the Missouri River on a ferry. The Mississippi and the Missouri are somewhat of a disappointment when one sees them, they are both such muddy, dirty streams, but of course they are immense, and a wonderful aid to the commercial world, but without a doubt the little AuSable river is at least greater in heauty.

After two days driving in South Dakota the monotony was broken by the Bad Lands, they are rather pretty and the various formations are differ-ent colors when the sun shines upon them, making them look rainbow tint ed. We saw some queer hills some with rocks on the top as if place there for a crown, others shaped like huge toads-tools, and others perfect-ly flat and smooth on top. No vege-tation of any kind grows through the Bad Lands. There are also great vawning chasms here and there through these formations. Dakota is claimed to be one of the most prosperous states in the union, out after driving for miles and miles hrough this utterly useless land it is hard to believe. Near Hettinger, N. D. we saw some

We saw men riding fine horses with dressed in true Western style, large brimmed, leather trimmed hats, and shirts so varied and elaborate that at once they reminded me of Wm. S. Hart's collection, and bright colored scarfs knotted around their necks. Here we saw immense herds of fat,

We were in a terrible electric and wind storm one night in Wisconsin, thought we would drown before morn ing or have our camp blown away, but the only inconvenience was that we made camp earlier next day to dry our tent and other belongings. One even-ing I had prepared dinner setting it on a camp table with seats attached at each side but unfortunately this table had no center post to steady it. Mother and Dad proceeded to sit one at one side at the same time unbalanc-ing the table, and away went table, dinner and all. But to use a slang phrase "These were mere trifles in

Merida, Laden with $5,000,000 Wealth, Found by Trawlers

New York-The Merida, oft sought Ward liner, laden with gold, jewels, copper and silver, which went down in a collision off the Virginia Capes in 1911, has been found by trawlers dragging for the wreck.

A group of wealthy New Yorkers, including Anthony J. Drexel-Biddle, Ir. Franklin I. Mallory, W. Heyward Drayton, III, and others, financed the hunt for the ship.

The finding of the vessel marks the first step in recovering a vast fortune variously estimated at from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000. No one knows just how much money is locked up n the Merida.

50,000 IN LIFE-SAVING SERVICE OF RED CROSS

Additional 50,000 Water Safety Experts Probable Gain of Summer Campaign.

A boy watched an expert give class a lesson in the way to revive a mersion. The next day the boy tried it on a bathing companion and saved his life. Such a boy justifies all the effort and the cost of the Life-Saving Service, American Red Cross officials declare. The Red Cross method of restoring partly drowned persons is s simple that the continual large sacr fice of life must decrease as an in formed public insists upon general it struction in prone pressure practice to induce respiration. The Red Cross Life Saving Service in every part of the country, summer and winter, is engaged in teaching method as an integral part of swimming and life-saving. This service has grown from a single expert in 1914 to a corps of almost 50.000 ac tive life savers. in this tenth year o the work it is predicted that fully 50,000 more experts will be eligible for membership in the corps. This large accession in a single year is confidently expected as the result of the campaign among 22,000 troops o Boy Scouts under a plan to qualify at least two life guards in each troop During the past year 4,746 men 3,374 women, 9,731 boys and girls suc cessfully passed the rigid tests of the Red Cross—an increase of 5,331 over 1923. Intensive instruction is develop-ing hundreds of qualified examiners for the Red Cross Life-Saving Corps who supplement the teaching maintained by the national organiza tion. The cause of water safety is therefore penetrating to new section and eventually will cover all Ameri can territory. Recognition of this Red Cross ser vice for humanity is growing apace At the request of the War Departmen every military training camp had life saving instruction last summer. nicipalities have adopted the Red Cross course, public and private schools are offering it to students business, civic and athletic organiza tions are promoting campaigns, and police departments are making it part of the conditioning process for their recruits.

Volunteer life-savers throughout the country, the American Red Cross re ports, are eagerly advancing the cause of water safety, 388 volunteers receiv-ing medals for giving from 200 to 300 hours' service in two or three years In addition 35 rescue bars to medal were awarded members of the Red Cross Corps who saved one or more lives during the year.

It is for the work and extension o life-saving that continued suppor through memberships is sought, and the American Red Cross urges all persons to join or renew membership during the enrollment campaign open ing Armistice Day, November 11.

Red Cross Invites All Into Neutral Army of Service

There are 3.089 counties in the United States and more than 3,500 Chapters of the American Red Cross The Chapter is the local unit of the national organization, formed to carry out the program, services and policies of the Red Cross. The industry of these 3,500 local units is a voluntary and steady outpouring of well-doing and sympathy which softens human suffering and distress wherever it arises. This work is absolutely neutral, for the Red Cross knows no race no creed, no color

The strength of the American Red Cross being in its Chapters, the or ganization annually invites the peo ship during a Roll Call which always begins on Armistice Day, November 11 "It is this annual enlistment of millions of Americans under the banne of the American Red Cross which makes possible the continued work of this great and democratic legion of mercy," says Judge John Barton Payne, head of the national organiza "Membership in the Red Cross is a privilege within the reach o everyone. The need for service grows more insistent each year. To keep proc with the demands which come from every section of our country we must have the people's loyal sup port. Our capacity for service in the the extent to which we receive sup port for our work in the coming Roll

The invitation of the American Red Cross is unlimited. The enrollment period, Armistice Day to Thanksgiv ing, is everyone's opportunity to join
